Corporate Events

Whether you are kicking off a new product or leveraging the diversity of your staff to become a more effective team with interactive teambuilding and learning programs, we can provide tools of corporate event planning. These include teambuilding, strategic planning, change management, systems thinking, stress reduction, facilitation and/or conflict resolution. We will also help you and your staff plan and experience the benefits of immediate application in the work place.

Oriental, NC provides a perfect backdrop for your corporate events, mixing business with pure pleasure. We help corporations create meetings that tie in learning objectives, teach people-skills, build teams, develop leadership skills, accelerate change, merge cultures, while producing better communication, improved productivity and higher profitability.

Corporate Teambuilding

We specialize in interactive ways to engage participants. Our programs will thrill your team with fun, exciting and unique experiences that show staff how they can overcome obstacles and learn how to work together. Our games range from easy/non-physical activities to more advanced physical activities and games. They're all fun and great for relieving stress, and at the same time they foster better employee relations by helping participants improve communication and listening skills.

Whatever your need is we can create a teambuilding event specific to your desired outcome.
